changed to فَعَالَى (S, TA:) [or] بُلاءُ is [properly, or originally,] an inf. n., (S, M, K,) and signifies the act of trying, proving, or testing, by, or with, good, and by, or with, evil: (S, M:) it is evil and good: (T, M:*) a trial, or an affliction, (T, K,) which is its original meaning; (T;) and a [probationary] benefit, favour, or blessing, (T,) or a [probationary] gift; (K;) the former of these requiring patience, and the latter being the greater of the two [as being commonly the more dangerous to the soul]; (TA;) [but the latter meaning is generally indicated only by the addition of an epithet: thus] بُلاَءُ حَسَنْ means a great benefit, or favour, or blessing, of God; (Bd in viii. 17;) or a good gift of God: (Jel ibid.:) also means grief; as though it tried the body: (Er-Rághib, K:) and the imposition of a difficult, or troublesome, thing; a requirement; an exaction; because it is difficult, or distressing, to the body; or because it is a trying. (K.) (like قطام, S, K) is syn. with : (S, M, K :) occurring in the saying, الكُفَّار أَوْلَتُ بُلَاِّهِ عَلَى الكُفَّار [Trial, or affliction, befell the unbelievers]: (S, M, K:) mentioned by El-Ahmar, as heard by him from the Arabs. (S.) in form, [is an inf. n. of 3, بلاءً q. v. : and also signifies] Anxiety respecting which one talks to himself, or soliloquizes. (Msb. [Compare a meaning of ; , above.]) sec بَارَة , in two places . = Also A shecamel that has her fore shank bound to her arm at the grave of her master, and is left without food until she dies: (T:) or a she-camel, (M in arts. بلى and K,) or a mare, or beast of the equine kind, (M in art. بلو,) that is bound at the grave of her master, (M, K,) he being dead, and is left without food or water (M) until she dies (M, K) and wastes away; for they used to say that her master would be raised from the dead upon her: (M:) or a she-camel which, in the Time of Ignorance, had her fore shank bound to her arm at the grave of her master, and was left without food or water until she died : or for which was dug a pit, wherein she was left until she died: for they used to assert that men would be raised from the dead riding upon the , [pl. of بُليّة in the sense above explained, (T, TA,)] or walking if their beasts whereon they rode were not bound, with the head turned backwards, at their graves: (S:) or a cow, or shecamel, or sheep, or goat, which, in the Time of Ignorance, they used to hamstring, or slaughter, at the grave: so in a trad. (TA.) Suh says that this custom proves that, in the Time of Ignorance, they held the doctrine of the resurrection of the body: but they who held it were the fewer number. (TA.) It is said that بُليّة is originally or ۱ مُبلاة (TA.) Et-Tirimmáh says, [Places of abode in which thou wilt not see the stones, or other things, that have been set up to Bk. I.

be worshipped, nor the pits of the beast left by the grave of the master to die]; meaning places of abode of the people of El-Islam, exclusively of the pagans. (S.) IAar says that بُلْيَةُ and بَلْيَةُ signify Such as is wearied, or jaded, and emaciated, and dying. (TA.)

is a particle ; (S, Msb, Mughnee ;) contr. of y: (S:) not a noun: (Sb, S:) it is a replicative; (S, Mughnee;) an affirmative of what is said [in that to which it is a reply]; (S, Msb;) [with very few exceptions] relating only to a negation, which it annuls: (Msb, Mughnee:) the final letter is a radical: or, accord. to some, the word is originally بَلْ, [after which an affirmation is to be understood,] and the final letter is letter is a denotative of the fem. gender, because it is [often] pronounced with imaleh. (Mughnee.) It is a reply to an interrogation in which is a negative, (T, M, Msb, Mughnee, K,) and affirms what is said to thee [in that interrogation]; (M, K;) whether it be an interrogation in the proper sense, (Mughnee,) as when you say to another, [Didst thou not such a thing?], أَلَيْرَ تَفْعَلُ كَذَا and he replies, بَلَى [meaning Yes, or yea, or ay, I did], (T,) or as when one says, أَنْيُسَ زُيْدُ بِقَائِمِ [Is not Zeyd standing?], and you reply, بلى [Yes, he is]; or be meant to convey reproof, (Mughnee,) as in the Kur [lxxv. 3 and 4], أَيْحُسُبُ الإِنْسَانُ أَنْ لَنْ نَجْمَعَ عِظَامَهُ بَلَى man think that we will not collect his bones? Yes], (Msb, Mughnee,) i. e., we will collect them; (Msb;) or be meant to make a person confess, or acknowledge, a thing, (Mughnee,) as in the Kur [vii. 171], أَنَسْتُ بِرَبِّكُمْ قَالُوا بَلَى [Am I not your Lord? They said, Yea]. (M, Mughnee.) It is also a reply to a simple negation, (Msb, Mughnee,) as when I say, ما قام [Zeyd did not stand, or has not stood], and you reply, بَلَى as an affirmative [meaning Yes, he did, or he has]. (Msb.) It occurs in the Kur بَلَى قَدْ جَاءَتُكَ آيَاتِي (xxxix. 60], where it is said, [Yea, my signs have come to thee], preceded by that which is not literally a negation, but which has the force of a negation; for the preceding saying, نُوْ أَنَّ ٱللهُ هَدُاني [If God had directed me aright, or would that God &c.], is like the saying, مَا هَدِيتَ [I was not directed aright]. (M.) It also occurs in the books of traditions, in some instances, as a reply to an interrogation without a negative; but these instances are rare, and not to be followed in rendering revelation. (Mughnee.) Az says that when a man says to another, الْا تَقُومُ [Wilt thou not stand?], and the Nay, I بَلُ أَقُومُ he means بَلَى Nay, I will stand], adding the alif [written 6] to make the pause good; for if he said, بُل, the other would expect something more to be said after it. (TA.) It is said that the pronunciation termed imaleh is allowable in the case of بَلَى; and if so, its final radical letter is &: and some of the grammarians say that this pronunciation of بلي is because, by reason of its completeness and independence of meaning, so that it requires nothing after it, it resembles independent nouns, in the cases of which this pronunciation is allowable.
